The moratorium was originally approved in Feb. 2006 to be in effect for one year, but with the provision for two 3-month extensions. The first extension, approved last February, expires this May. Although the revision to the Town's Comprehensive Plan has been approved, the changes to the Town building and zoning codes necessitated by that revision have not yet been finalized by the Code Task Force or approved by the Board. Thus a second moratorium extension to August 2007 was needed.

Two town-wide meetings were held in late April to present drafts of the new zoning districts and provisions and to receive feedback and suggestions from residents. The Task Force drafts are currently being revised based on this input, and newly revised documents are expected over the coming weeks.

The most recent drafts of the proposed new zoning districts and provisions (including a map) are available from the Town Clerk and on the town website: www.townofrochester.net.

Would you like to see blacksmiths at work, or learn how to raise bees, or find out the value of your favorite family treasure, or discover some missing information about your family tree, or enjoy a cup of delicious Swiss cappuccino and homemade brownies?

Results of Earth Day 2007

Thanks to the efforts of many, many volunteers and the coordination of the Youth Dept., the town had a very successful Earth Day(s) cleanup on April 21 & 28.

Not deterred by ticks, poison ivy or yucky-yuck, participants cleaned 43 town roads, gathering up 60 tires, 1 air conditioner, 2 tons of metal and 3 tons of miscellaneous debris. A big THANK YOU to all those who volunteered this year, be it picking up trash, driving collection trucks or just distributing the orange plastic bags. THANKS!!!

presso, as well as fine teas and brownies. This new feature is being presented by Hans Lupold.

Also at the museum, antique cars and machinery will be on display. At noon-time, lunch of hot dogs, chips and soda will be available at the Fire Hall.

One of the main attractions of the day will be Accord's "Road Show" for appraisal of antiques and collectibles at $5.00 per item.

In addition, several heritage crafts will be demonstrated. These include blacksmithing by farrier Rick Gray and by Jon Nedor, who will be making wrought iron items. Bee-keeping will be demonstrated by Chris Harp; candle dipping by Rosalou Novi; and quilting, large and small, by several expert seamstresses.

Attractions at the Museum are the many photographs, documents and files about local history and historic properties in the Rochester.

A genealogist will be available to assist in research for specific families using the extensive resources of the Eleanor Rosakranse Genealogical Collection and a computer databank on local families.

Available for sale will be items on local history, plus books of all kinds and LP records from the 1950s to the 1970s.

Parking behind the Museum is free. A brochure indicating the location of each feature of History Day 2007 will be available to all visitors at the Museum. For more information please call 845-626-7104 or 687-9998.
